A modern stone bench is the central focus, set in a park during cherry blossom season. The bench is made of large, rectangular blocks of stone. The seat and backrest are a light, veined marble, while the base is a darker, reddish-brown stone with white veining. The bench has a hollowed-out rectangular section at the bottom. In the background, there are several trees in full bloom with light pink blossoms. A black lamppost stands to the left of the bench. The ground is green grass with some fallen petals. The overall scene is bright and pleasant.

A 3D rendered scene of a tropical beach. In the foreground, there are two large, light-colored, textured rocks on a sandy surface. Behind the rocks, four palm trees of varying heights stand in a row. The background shows a clear blue sky, a calm blue ocean, and a distant rocky coastline. The lighting suggests a bright, sunny day.
